

Mythical Meetings in a Winter Wonderland

Oliver's City Twist

There was once a little boy named Oliver. Oliver was a lad who, along with his work pals, did it quite tough in the big city where they lived. Unlike the other boys though, Oliver had a touch more substance, a little more class and well, was a lot more partial to the finer things in life. So when his comrades needed to get together to strategically map out their next round of 'business ventures', Oliver knew there was only one place to meet.

Understated elegance and five-star quality was assured, and a WINTER SPECIAL meant this meeting would be a slice of luxury even they could afford.

The Observatory Hotel, in the heart of Sydney, is the most awarded hotel in Australia. With a Michelin-star chef serving classic French cuisine in Galileo, a pampering Day Spa and the gentleman club-like Globe Bar, the hotel was no twisted tale.
